

Award in Volunteering to Support English Language

BLACKBURNE
HOUSE

The aims of the Award in Volunteering to Support English Language is to enable volunteers to be able to support English language teaching and learning in their own organisational context, understand the importance of safeguarding and confidentiality in the classroom, and to be able to recognise and address some of the challenges and issues that English language students encounter. This qualification is suitable for volunteers who would like to understand how to support others to learn English as a second language in a learning support environment. Learners may have learned English as a second language themselves and now wish to support others. We offer this qualification at level 1 and level 2.
