Aim of Business Continuity Plan

To provide all Management and Staff of Blackburne House Group with the information needed to report, manage, and recover from all incidents or emergencies.

Crises or disasters start with an incident, an occurrence with an impact on and implications for the business. They can happen at any time.

This document has been designed to provide the staff within Blackburne House with a step-by-step guide, detailing how best to respond to all potential incidents that are likely to be encountered.

Blackburne House plan to recover quickly and resume business operations after a significant business disruption and respond by safeguarding our employees, students, visitors and property and resume operations as quickly as possible.

Scope

The plan covers the building fabric, critical systems, data backup, finance, and alternative communication systems with our customers, stakeholders, staff, students, critical suppliers, contractors, and movement of business to alternative premises.

What is an Incident, Crisis, or Disaster?

Incident – a sudden, unplanned event that has a meaningful impact and implications for the respective business within Blackburne House

Crisis – an occurrence with a major impact on people, property, profit, and the brand for example bomb threat, kidnap, serious fire, terrorism, major system failure, scandal or corruption

Disaster – an occurrence with a catastrophic impact on people, property, profit, and the brand affecting the loss of the building for a lengthy period of time

What to Report?

All incidents should be reported using the form provided which is available on the shared file, or from the admin office, Reception or Facilities Manager. Here are some examples:

- Near misses
- Minor theft
- Robbery or burglary
- Verbal abuse and threatening/abusive behaviour.
- Assault or wounding
- Serious accidents and injuries
- RIDDOR reportable accidents and injuries
- Customer safety/health complaints
- Spillage or accident likely to cause pollution.
- Illness and epidemics
- Flood
- Fire

- Engineering service failures
- IT system and telecommunications failures
- Power failures
- Protesters
- Civil disorder
- Suspect packages and letters
- Bomb threats
- Telephone threats
- Media approaches and press enquiries

Though it may seem unnecessary, reporting all incidents is essential and will ensure that:

- 1 The necessary support is provided to all Managers and their teams by all relevant BBH functions.
- 2 All incidents are logged and recorded, thus ensuring a high standard of due diligence is maintained and repetitive issue patterns are more easily identifiable.
- 3 Correct legal governance is followed, as the law requires certain types of incidents to be reported.

As much detail as possible must be included when reporting any incident as this will ensure that the utmost support is given and that all contributing factors to and outcomes of the incident are resolved

Responsibilities of Managers

As Managers, you are responsible that all incidents that occur within your department (whether you are present or not) are reported before they escalate any further, thus avoiding the potential for a crisis or a disaster.

- A full copy of the Business Continuity Plan
- Plans of the building
- COSHH

Communication

Key personnel within the organisation will be kept informed on what is happening and how the recovery process is progressing.

Time Management

Education Actions Regarding Site Closure

Initial response
Assess the need for closure. Consider whether any mitigation measures are possible, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• partially opening the site to some learners• purchasing infection control supplies (in the event of a public health incident)
Seek support from other organisations.
Ensure that everyone who needs to be aware of the closure is notified, using the most suitable options in section 7. It may be appropriate to inform: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• learners• parents / carers• colleagues• extended services• local radio stations
If the closure takes place during the working day, arrange transport for learners as necessary.
If the closure takes place outside delivery hours, at least one colleague should be present at the entrance. This is to ensure that any learners who do arrive are informed of the closure and can return home safely.
Make alternative arrangements for exams if necessary.

If BBH is closed for a significant period, consider the below.

Ongoing response
Ensure learners, parents/carers and the media are regularly informed of developments.
Consider how learners with Special Educational Needs (SEN) or medical needs may be affected if the BBH remains closed for an extended period of time.
Ensure the security of the BBH premises.
Put in place arrangements for remote learning (please see section 5).

Bomb Threat- Procedure

Activation

Information about an incident may come from several sources (e.g. a member of staff, learner, parent/carer, member of the public, the emergency services) Whoever receives the alert should ask for, and record, as much information as possible.

- Maintain a written record of your actions using this form and a log book. You may wish to record any new contact details in section 1.7
- Offer reassurance and support. Be aware that all those involved in the incident (both directly and indirectly) may be suffering from shock or may panic.
- Find out what has happened. Obtain as clear a picture as you can.
- Discuss with the informant what action needs to be taken and by whom.

Ensure all learners are inside the building, each Tutor taking responsibility for their class.
If appropriate, move learners away from the incident (e.g. to the other side of the building).
Dial 99, if appropriate. Dial once for each emergency service that you require.
If sheltering from an environmental hazard (e.g. a smoke plume) ensure all doors and windows are closed and ventilation/air circulation systems are switched off.

Reassure learners and keep them engaged in an activity or game.
Consider asking a representative from the emergency services to visit the BBH and provide a briefing to learners.

SUSPICIOUS PACKAGES

Postal bombs or biological/chemical packages might display any of the following signs:

- Excessive wrapping
- Grease marks or oily stains on the envelope/wrapping.
- An unusual odour including (but not restricted to) ammonia, almonds or marzipan
- Discolouration, crystals, or powder-like residue on the envelope/wrapping.
- Visible wiring/tin foil

- Too many stamps for the weight of the package
- Poor handwriting, spelling, or typing.
- Delivery by hand from an unknown source
- Wrongly addressed or come to an unexpected/unusual source

The likelihood of the BBH receiving a postal bomb or biological/chemical package is low. However, if you do receive a suspicious package, carry out the actions below.

Suspicious packages – initial response
Remain calm. Put the letter/package down gently on a flat surface and note its exact location.
Walk away from the package: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do not touch the package further. • Do not move the package to another location. • Do not put the package into anything (including water) • Do not put anything on top of the package. • Do not switch any electric switches on or off. • Do not use mobile phones within 15 metres of the package. • Do not sound the fire alarm using 'break-glass' call points. • Do not lock doors
Evacuate the building, keeping people away from the package as far as possible. Ensure that any assembly points are located away from the danger of flying glass.
Notify the police (999) and the Head / nominated emergency contact immediately.
If anyone is exposed to a potentially hazardous substance carry out the actions below:
Potentially hazardous substances – initial response
Keep all persons exposed to the material separate from others (in the next available unoccupied room to the incident) but available for medical examination by the emergency services. Ask them to remain calm and avoid touching their eyes, nose or any other part of their body.
Any person with powder on their clothes should remove their outer layer and leave these belongings in the original room. If possible, they should wash their hands and face as this is likely to remove 90% of the contaminant.
Ensure that ventilation/air circulation systems in the building have been turned off and that all doors (including internal fire doors) and windows have been closed.
Anyone experiencing symptoms of chemical exposure (e.g. streaming eyes, coughs and irritated skin) should await the response of the emergency services. People should not self-present at medical establishments as this could spread contamination.

Designate a specific area for the media away from the main entrance to the school, so they do not prevent or intimidate people from entering and leaving the site.
Develop a brief media statement (designed to provide reassurance) on behalf of BBH. Information given must be limited until the facts are clear and all parents/ carers have been notified.
Arrange for an appropriate colleague to act as a spokesperson (preferably this person will have received media training). If a suitable spokesperson is unavailable the emergency services may be able to undertake this role.
Be prepared to be interviewed by the media. This should be assigned to an appointed media spokesperson, who should not be a member of the SMT, liaising with the emergency services media department.
Media management – ongoing response
Devise an ongoing strategy for responding to media requests. Work closely with the media to establish what information they require and when their deadlines are.
Gather information from the Crisis Management Team (CMT), emergency services and other organisations as appropriate.
Provide regular statements to the media. Ensure each message conveys an accurate, consistent and reassuring message. All press releases should be checked and agreed upon by the emergency services (and other organisations as appropriate).
Advise colleagues on where to direct media enquiries. Ask colleagues, learners and parents/carers to avoid speculation when talking to the media.
Try to prevent the spread of misinformation (especially through the use of mobile phones).
Be aware of media interest in memorials or anniversaries of the vent.

Roles and Responsibilities- Resources

Person Responsible-Mike Murray

Resources – Initial response
Take action to protect property. Consider turning off utility supplies.
Ensure the emergency services can access / egress BBH without hindrance. Consider sending a colleague to the BBH entrance to prevent people from restricting access by parking in unsuitable places.
Advise the emergency services of any property-related issues/hazards (e.g. asbestos, chemical stores) Provide personnel with a site map, door access cards and digital codes to all buildings.
Work with other colleagues and the emergency services to control access to the school: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Advise colleagues that they might have to prove their identity before the emergency services will grant them access.• Provide authorised visits with identification badges and ensure they sign in and sign out.• Ensure that media access to the site is controlled.
Resources – ongoing response
Liaise with utility suppliers as required
Establish safe and secure areas to assist the response. E.g. ; <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Crisis Management Team (CMT) Briefing room• Briefing area for parents/carers• Media briefing room
Work closely with colleagues and other organisations (e.g. the emergency services, contractors, utility suppliers) to provide access to facilities and resources as required. This may involve opening or closing parts of the school.
Ensure the BBH site is secure (e.g. provide temporary fencing around damaged areas, and arrange for broken windows to be boarded).
Work with the 'Business Continuity role to arrange temporary accommodation if required.
Resources – recovery response
Work closely with the 'co-ordination' role in organising remedial work to the property and liaise with insurance companies, salvage specialists and loss adjusters as appropriate.
Arrange a site visit with relevant personnel (e.g. the emergency services, contractors, utility suppliers) involved in the recovery phase.
Procure temporary classrooms if appropriate.

Roles and Responsibilities- Welfare

Person Responsible-Tracy Ryan

Welfare – recovery
Please refer to section 4 for information on welfare arrangements and post-incident support after the emergency response.
Post-incident support – assistance for pupils and parents/carers
Introduce a strategy to monitor pupils and colleagues who may be particularly affected by the incident. Ensure that staff are aware of this strategy.
Offer pupils and colleagues the opportunity for psychological support and counselling. Ensure colleagues and learners know that support is available and arrange access to these services as necessary.
Consider which learners need to be briefed, how, and by whom.
Provide opportunities for learners to discuss their experiences (e.g. promoting discussion during class, arranging a special lesson). Do not discourage learners from talking about their experiences.
Arrange a colleague to visit those affected (at home or hospital). Ask for consent from parents/carers before doing this.
Make arrangements to express sympathy to those who have been hurt. Consider encouraging pupils to send cards/messages to those affected.
Be sensitive about the demands practical issues might make on learners (e.g. deadlines for coursework, imminent exams).
Send a letter to parents/carers with information on; <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The nature of the incident• How their learner was notified of the incident• Arrangements for support organised by BBH.• Who to contact if they would like additional support?
Maintain regular contact with parents/carers.
Do not make public any sensitive/confidential information about individuals unless consent has been given by pupils and parents/carers.
Consider organising an event for parents/carers to discuss any issues or concerns they might have.
If pupils who were particularly affected by the incident leave BBH, consider, sensitively and confidentially, notifying the new provider.
Post-incident support – general actions
Request support from educational professionals, trained in psychological debriefing, critical incident stress debriefing, bereavement counselling and trauma management if appropriate.
Consider requesting support from other organisations. E.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Health Assured• Samaritans• Cruse Bereavement care.
Manage any distress that could be caused by ongoing police enquiries, legal proceedings and media attention.
Cancel or rearrange any appropriate events.
Plan appropriate support for staff to enable them to cope with any questions or discussions pupils might have about the incident.
Ensure that any new roles given to colleagues do not place too great a burden. Over time, colleagues may need to be relieved of any additional responsibilities given to them.
Ensure that new colleagues are aware of the incident, which learners were involved and how they were affected.
Consider any actions which can be taken to support the local community if affected by the incident (e.g. fundraising).
Post-incident support – returning after a period of absence

Negotiate with parents/carers a suitable date for returning to BBH after a period of absence.
Consider if any additional support could be provided which would make the return easier. E.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Initial part-time attendance • Alternative methods of teaching • A sanctuary that learners could use if upset during the working day.
Brief learners who may be able to help in the process of resettling (e.g. close friends).
Ensure all colleagues are aware of the need for sensitivity. Put in place special arrangements for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Missed work • Rescheduling projects • Exams
Post-incident support – funeral arrangements
Contact bereaved families to express sympathy on behalf of BBH.
Take account of religious and cultural factors (e.g. some faiths wish to hold funerals within 24 hours of death). Consider contacting religious leaders within the community for support.
Consult parents/carers sensitively about funeral arrangements. Try to establish if representatives from the BBH will be invited to the service. It may be useful to consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Closing BBH on the day of the funeral as a mark of respect • A senior colleague attending the funeral on behalf of BBH. • If colleagues and learners can be allowed time off from BBH to attend a funeral. • Providing transport to take learners and colleagues to the funeral. • Providing learners with information about what happens at funerals. • Arranging floral tributes and/or donations.
Post-incident support – remembrance
Taking into account the wishes of the family, consider providing a suitable memorial at BBH:
Be aware of renewed media interest near anniversaries of the event.
